

Windham Independent, January 7, 2010

WINDHAM ENDOWMENT FOR COMMUNITY ADVANCEMENT GIFTS AN ACOUSTICAL SHELL TO WINDHAM HIGH SCHOOL

On Tuesday, December 21st, the Windham Endowment presented a gift of $17,531 to the Windham School Board for the purchase of a Wenger Legacy Acoustical Shell as part of the Endowment's Windham High School Capital Campaign.

These eight panels will allow the Fine Arts Department to offer alternative programming and to use venues throughout the school, such as the gymnasium and the cafeteria, when size necessitates. Dr. Bass highlighted that the shell will play an important part in the school, especially when Windham hosts next year's Jazz All-State Festival.

During the presentation, the Endowment thanked Karen Sayward, Dean of Fine Arts for all her work. In addition Jared Cassedy, George Kendall, and Rick Sweetzer were all recognized for graciously providing time and expertise in developing the list of items needed to best advance the opportunities at the high school for both the students and the entire community.

Most importantly, the Endowment wants to thank all of the residents, organizations, and corporations that are making gifts to the Capital Campaign. It is through their generosity that all gifts to the high school are possible. Going forward, specialty lighting and audio equipment are also planned in Fine Arts; donations to Alternative Energy/WIRE, and the greenhouse are also underway.

For those interested in learning more about the Windham High School Capital Campaign, please visit www.windhamendowment.org, or contact Diane Carpenter at dcarpenter@windhamendowment.org.